

In the Realm of Women

-BY PENELOPE

U. L. Wright and family, formerly of Edmonton, arrived from their Quebec this morning on their way to Toronto. They are staying at the Royal Clarence Hotel, and will remain in town for three days.

The Presbyterian Club, organized by Mr. J. E. Donald, Mr. Harry M. Martin and Mr. Merrill T. Haas, gave their first dance in the Empire Auditorium Friday. The three men may be justly proud of their effort as the affair was unusually bright. About two hundred people danced until midnight when supper brought the evening to a close. All voted the Chaperone a very jolly one. The patronesses included Mrs. J. C. McNeil, Mrs. W. G. Fraser, Mrs. J. H. Martin and Mrs. R. A. Van Pelt.

Receptions

Mrs. (Dr.) Clyde Macdonald, 821 Wadsworth road, will receive on Monday, March 2nd, for the last time in autumn. Mrs. J. A. Wright will receive with her.

Mrs. Wm. James McComan, 1678 25th street, will receive for the first time since she came to Edmonton, Tuesday, March 3rd, from four to five o'clock, and afterwards on the fourth Thursday of the month. Mrs. P. T. Butecher will receive with her.

Mrs. James A. Pattison will be "at home" for the first time since her marriage on Friday, March 6th, at 815 Bith Avenue S.E. Her mother, Mrs. Edmondson, and sister Estelle will receive with her.

One of the events of the season was the reception given on Friday night, March 13th, by Mrs. J. A. Wright at her home in University College.

The pretty ceremony, converted into hours of bloom-puns and trim-hyacinthine and daffodils were all arranged with the help of friends.

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Wright received their guests in the drawing-room, the housewifely blue Dresden chignon, mounted on satin.

One of the charming features of the affair was Mrs. J. A. Wright's beautiful gown, which was a masterpiece of the latest fashion.

The reception, which was of an official nature, included His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, the professors of the University and their wives, the governors of the University, members of the cabinet, representatives of Alberta and Robertson College, as well as many others.

Among those present were noticed His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Justice Stuart, Professor and Mrs. Bradshaw, Professor Muir, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Van Pelt, Professor and Mrs. Lehmann, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Van Pelt, and Mrs. Green, Professor and Mrs. J. A. Wright.

"These are 'hottish' slippers. 'Hottish' slippers are the latest mode of fashion, they are the wisest shoes which women are wearing in the ballrooms of Paris. The slippers are the dance move, and give a charming effect."

Miss Kitty Gordon received a sensation on Broadway recently with a bird of paradise in her hair. She has introduced the fashion of decorated faces into the United States from St. Petersburg. The bird of paradise is a bird of the tropics, and is a very beautiful bird.

New York women are taking a keen interest in having last new. Recently a number of fashionable women have been seen wearing a new kind of hat, the hat of the world's fair, which is a very beautiful hat.

"Miss Trimm" has been chosen as a suitable name for the spring girl of 1914, judging from the fact that she is a very beautiful girl, and is a very good girl.

These slippers are a very beautiful slipper, and are a very good slipper. They are a very beautiful slipper, and are a very good slipper. They are a very beautiful slipper, and are a very good slipper.

Taller and taller grows the tramping on women's hats and the man in the theatre. The man in the theatre is a very beautiful man, and is a very good man.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1914

Mr. Ferguson on Thursday night.

A resolution dealing with club licenses at follows:

(Resolved)—(a) That, in the opinion of this House, all licenses to clubs should be cancelled forthwith;

(b) That an amendment to the 12-600 License Act should be made immediately;

(c) That each amendment should be made at the house of 210 Jasper Ave., at 2 o'clock and 6 to 8 o'clock p.m., with a meeting of at least 100 members, and during which only alcoholic or intoxicating beverage could be served;

(d) That no club should be a licensee unless such club has a membership of at least 100 members, and paid a joining fee of $10, together with any and all dues;

(e) That only a formal licensing fee should be exacted with aforesaid conditions.

This motion was made by a supporter of the Roblin Government, in view of the disclosures made in the Kravchenko inquiry, it was voted down by the Government, on the mayor declining to withdraw it, the Liberals in the House voting in favor. The club license in Alberta should be taken in hand and remodelled along somewhat similar lines. A fifty-dollar joining fee would of course prevent any but rich men belonging to clubs. There is no reason why such disability should be imposed on the man who is not rich, and the required fee might be fifty dollars instead of fifty.

The individual citizen is responsible for securing employment for himself. The civic organization does nothing for him that regard, except as a matter of urgency or charity. The country surrounding Edmonton is chiefly adapted for mixed farming. The great handicap to the expansion of the city is the difficulty of securing labor. It seems unreasonable that with such conditions surrounding Edmonton the city should be called upon to find employment for all who see fit to demand it when the country around Edmonton is held in a condition of stagnation for lack of labor, and Edmonton itself is held back by the country around it is not being fully developed. We complain of the scarcity and high price of farm products; and instead of requiring those who demand work to take it where it awaits them and where their work would be for the benefit of everyone, we use the money of the taxpayers to support them either in idleness or in unproductive labor.

There should not be any difference in official consideration toward a club of rich men and a club of poor men, and need be no such difference if the clubs are in either case organized for social purposes. If gambling and drink are only incidental to sociability, both institutions stand on the same basis so far as the law is concerned, and there is no difference whether those members are rich men or poor men. The point of criticism is that clubs ostensibly organized for social purposes are really organized and conducted for the purpose of selling liquor—and, it is alleged, of gambling. Whether the members of these clubs are rich men or poor men, the institutions are not social clubs and their existence is of no use to the community. A social club of poor men is just as legitimate, and has just as much right to a measure of organization as one of rich men. On the other hand, a club of rich men has no more right to make whiskey-selling and gambling the main purposes of its existence than has a club of poor men. The central control of the law is the law places clubs absolutely under the thumb of the Attorney-General if they are conducted as booze joints and gambling dens, and the public have no recourse but to proper purposes of social clubs are adhered to.

Forty-six foreign-born students of the Regina training school have gone on strike, claiming that they have been humiliated by the principal. Perhaps they were required to learn to talk English, which the school is maintained to teach them, and to learn which they are supposed to be attending it.

Hon. Col. Sam Hughes refuses to either withdraw the sanction he gave to a dirty insinuation regarding Hon. Sydney Fisher or to resign his words under a parliamentary whip where he would be answerable to the law. That was not to be expected of Col. Hughes, who has enjoyed a reputation for bluff and candor and manliness. His course on this occasion is neither candid nor manly. Unless he wishes to earn the epithet he would probably most warmly resent, he should either withdraw the sanction he gave to the insinuation, or he should be left to the rumor or give Mr. Fisher an opportunity to disprove it.

Why should an atmosphere of mystery and secrecy surround negotiations between a city council and a financial firm touching a sale of city debentures? The characteristic is not peculiar to the present council. It has been the invariable rule of similar transactions in this city, and probably elsewhere. There may be a valid reason for this long-standing practice. It has been observed precedent, but the reason seems to have never been put into black and white. It is time this was done, or the custom abandoned. It is understandable that a prospective purchaser should prefer to have matters kept quiet until the deal is closed, else competitors might appear on the scene and bid for the business. But that is not a development to which the ratepayer would object. And in the matter the ratepayer has a real and very considerable interest. A disclosure of this kind is a mortgage issued against his house and lot. He, not the alderman, must pay it and the interest upon it. He has quite as real interest in the mortgage as the alderman has. It is for the mortgage as it is for the full value is got for the money when it is spent. He may therefore rightfully ask to be told what his interest is in the mortgage before it is sold, and why one or any bid appears for the council as favorable as can be expected. True, he is told after a sale has been made what price it has received. But it is then eternally too late to mend matters. And it has not always appeared that a council has shown heaven-born wisdom in disclosure of this class of information to the ratepayer. Occasionally it has seemed that a council showed about as little wisdom in the matter as could be reasonably expected. Unless there is some solid public reason for continuing to leave this most important part of civic business exclusively in the hands of the council for transaction behind closed doors, it might be well to try the other course for a while—to announce bids for debentures as they come in, and to open; to this encourage competition, if that can be done; and to give the man who has to do the paying a chance to express his opinion as to the wisdom or unwisdom of selling or of holding for a better price.

X.Y.Z. RIDICULES MAYOR'S COMMENT ON HIS PETITION.

Editor Bulletin:

Mr.—Oh yes, Pelican! You great, big, greedy crook! So you are out there in the world, now, are you?

The Mayor's man, who has been charged the mayor and council to do a judicial investigation and the ghost of the innocent ratepayers.

Why should you, to feed a hungry pelican with the goat of the administration. But this last break of Mr. W. H. W. is the worst.

Imagine saying that Dr. McQueen, the Chief Clerk, is now in the hands of the ministerial association, that the moral and temperance reform league, imagine all these public bodies and prominent men.

And now the Pelican is fed, and who is the Pelican? Go away! Why do you, W. H. W., want to know? What connection is there between you and the mayor? Not only are the ex-convicts, but they are ex-convicts. Explain just who is in charge of your work.

And now the Bulletin is the worst it has been. Yet the Bulletin is the worst it has been. Yet the Bulletin is the worst it has been.

FRATERNAL

JASPER LOYAL

CHANCE LODGE

The monthly meeting of Jasper 1, O.E., was held in the Oddfellows' Hall on Monday evening last.

Attendance of members and a goodly number of the brethren from other lodges in the city.

Bro. J. Murphy was in the chair, and Bro. E. McQueen was the secretary.

Some discussion took place regarding the coming meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Alberta, which takes place next month in the city of Edmonton.

Arrangements were made for the representation of the lodge.

Bro. R. D. McLaughlin of Westminster Presbyterian Church was the guest speaker, and addressed the lodge, but the reverend gentleman was unavoidably absent and confined to his home with a severe cold.

He intends to keep his promise and address the lodge at no distant date.

Bro. W. M. Moorehead, who has just returned from a trip to Ireland, was present, and on the invitation of the W.M., told the brethren of his visit.

He spoke at some length of the political situation in the old country and referred to the position of Ulster in the present crisis.

The lodge was then raised to the blue degree, six brethren being excommunicated. Bro. J. J. Hogg and A. J. Truett acting as sponsors to the candidates, Bro. Wm. Hogg explained the lodge and its history.

Character

Wall Papers no less than in character, good and bad, and the varying degrees between. You can create harmony of design and color in your home that will at once educate and inspire, or you can create disharmony and even debase the finer natures of those compelled to endure such surroundings. You should be as careful of the character of the walls of your home as the character of the guest you invite within them.
